

Become a Cyber Essentials Certification Body

 APMG International

APMG Certification Bodies assess clients from all over the world

The APMG scheme for Certification Bodies (CBs) is a unique and rewarding scheme. It allows information and communication organizations of all sizes to become assessors for APMG's Cyber Essentials applicants. Due to the launch of APMG's new quick and easy to use assessment platform and the increased popularity of Cyber Essentials, we have seen a large growth in certification numbers.

Becoming a Certification Body for APMG is a great way to position your organization at the center of the thriving Cyber industry, expand your portfolio and be part of an officially recognized government scheme.

Costs and Benefits

The initial fee of becoming an APMG CB is £1000, which is payable every three years. However, for each application that you complete you will receive £100 from APMG.

We reward Certification Bodies who work with us:

- If you provide an organization to APMG, you will receive £150 for the assessment.
- All of our certification bodies continue to work with us on other schemes such as CDCAT, ISO standards and GCT.

Streamlined Cyber Essentials assessor platform

With the APMG assessment platform, assessing clients has never been easier. Our platform will:

- Email you when you have an application due for assessment.
- Enable you to add multiple assessors to help you manage workflow.
- Allow you to review submitted evidence.
- Let you securely contact your client.
- Pass an application to a second assessor for recommendation.
- Provide a dedicated APMG employee.

The Requirements

To join APMG your organization will need to demonstrate:

- A Quality Management System (QMS) assessment.
- OR
- One of the following standards: 17020:2012, 17065:2012, 17021:2011 or 17024:2012.
